Notice of Availability and Request for Comments on the Renewables Portfolio Standard Draft 2006 Procurement Verification Staff Report CEC-300-2009-006-SD

The California Energy Commission staff is seeking comments on the Draft Renewables Portfolio Standard 2006 Procurement Verification Report (Draft 2006 RPS Verification Report). The Draft 2006 RPS Verification Report provides the California Energy Commission's findings on the amount of renewable energy procured by select retail sellers of electricity under California's Renewables Portfolio Standard (RPS). This draft report is available free from the Energy Commission's website at:

<http://www.energy.ca.gov/portfolio/documents/>

The RPS was established by Senate Bill 1078 (Sher, Chapter 516, Statutes of 2002), which required the state's retail sellers of electricity — electric corporations, electric service providers, and community choice aggregators — to procure 20 percent of their retail electricity sales from eligible sources of renewable energy by 2017. The 20 percent target was accelerated to 2010 by the enactment of Senate Bill 107 (Simitian and Perata, Chapter 464, Statutes of 2006).

The Energy Commission's previous two RPS Verification Reports only analyzed procurement of the three large Investor-Owned Utilities (IOUs): Southern California Edison Company, Pacific Gas and Electric Company, and San Diego Gas & Electric Company. The scope of this 2006 RPS Verification Report has increased significantly relative to previous reports; it covers procurement of small and multi-jurisdictional utilities as well as electric service providers, including the three large IOUs. It also spans multiple years for retail sellers reporting for the first time or reporting adjustments from previous RPS filings.

This report verifies whether all reported procurement was generated by certified RPS-eligible facilities, if there is enough eligible generation to validate the retail seller's procurement claims, determines, to the extent possible, that RPS-eligible energy procured by the retail sellers was counted only once, analyzes RPS-eligible procurement by resource type and by new and repowered generation, verifies delivery requirements have been met, estimates incremental geothermal procurement, discusses limitations of the interim tracking system, and provides audit results of IOU procurement claims that are 5 percent or less than the facility generation amount.

Energy Commission staff held a workshop in 2009, to review the initial verification results and solicit public comments and has considered all public comments for the Draft 2006 RPS Verification Report. The public will have 19 calendar days to review and provide comments on this draft report. Once comments are considered and incorporated, staff will present the final report for approval at a regularly scheduled Energy Commission Business Meeting. The California Public Utilities Commission will use the report to determine retail sellers' compliance with the RPS program.
